CCTV anger of mum attacked by youths

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A YOUNG mother punched in the face in a shopping centre was told a CCTV camera missed the incident because it was blocked by a food stall.

Zenika Rattray, 22, from the town centre, was left 'shaken' after a group of boys attacked her at lunchtime in The Mall on January 22.

One of the boys bumped into the pram carrying her 10-month-old son and she asked the boys to 'be careful'.

She was then punched, causing her to collapse and leaving her with a bloody nose and swollen lip.

After the assault, Bedfordshire Police told the young mother a food stall had blocked CCTV cameras from recording the attack.

Zenika said: "One person punched me and I just fell, and the next thing I knew there were people helping me up but the boys were gone by then."

"Shoppers were giving me tissues and security took me to the walk-in-centre and then I went to the police to give my statement. On Tuesday they called me to say that they couldn't see the footage. I was really mad because I felt that was my one comfort, that they would be able to spot them."

"I'm okay and my nose is better but I don't feel safe. I went to the supermarket the other day and I felt nervous."

"This is the first time this has happened to me."

The Mall has since offered police access to other CCTV cameras that may have picked up the attack.

Speaking to Luton on Sunday on Friday, upon hearing the police will be checking other cameras, Zenika said:

SHAKEN: Zenika said she does not 'feel safe' and felt 'nervous' when she visited the supermarket after the attack. The Mall said it would 'assist the police with their enquiries in any way we can', including providing access to the other available CCTV footage

"I feel better because the impression I got was that the police had done all they can but I'm happy now that they are going to look at other footage."

Zenika added that she was now considering settling outside of Luton.

Her mother, Nicola Rattray, said: "I don't understand what their reason is for punching a young mum like that.

"There are lots of young mums in the Mall and vulnerable people and they seemed quite brazen - I would not want that to happen to anyone else."

Bedfordshire Police said: "We can confirm that there was an incident outside Superdrug in the Mall at about 12.45pm on Thursday, January 22, where a woman was assaulted by a man. A full police investigation is being undertaken into this incident including looking at available CCTV."

The force added that an officer would update Zenika after viewing more CCTV footage.

Jail term cut for man who fatally stabbed
Micah Urquhart

A 'WICKED' killer who slaughtered an 'extremely vulnerable' teenager with a knife has had his minimum jail term cut.

Waqar Younis, 20, of Queens Close, brutally stabbed Micah Urquhart, 19, outside his home in Hastings Street, in a 'revenge attack' in November 2013 carried out with Paul Lynam, 19, of Midland Road.

Younis was handed a life sentence at Luton Crown Court last March after he was convicted of murder.

He was ordered to serve at least 28 years behind bars before he could even apply for parole. Lynam was found guilty of manslaughter and handed 10 years' detention.

Judge Paul Batty QC, sitting with Lord Justice Bean and Mr Justice Irwin at the Court of Appeal, upheld a challenge against Younis's minimum term, saying his youth at the time meant it should be cut to 25 years.

The judges rejected a sentence challenge by Lynam but Judge Batty noted that Younis was only 18 at the time of the 'wicked murder'.

If he had been 17, his sentence would inevitably have been much shorter.

After 'long and anxious' consideration, the judge concluded that a 28 year minimum was excessive.

He said the court had come to the view 'the minimum term of 28 years was too long'.

Force investigating 13 cops over allegations

BY NICK SMITH
 nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

AT least 13 Bedfordshire Police officers are currently subject to ongoing investigations over harm suffered by black and Asian men.

Officers involved in the Leon Briggs, Faruk Ali and Julian Cole incidents are all currently under investigation by the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC).

This amounts to a total of 13, or 1.59 per cent of Bedfordshire Police officers.

Mr Briggs, 39, died in November 2013 while in police custody at the Luton and Dunstable Hospital after falling ill following his arrest.

Five officers are being investigated in connection with the incident.

Mr Cole, 21, whose family spoke for the first time this week, suffered a broken neck and brain damage as a result of a 'hangman's fracture' which allegedly happened as he was being arrested outside Bedford's Elements nightclub in May 2013. Six police officers were interviewed under caution for GBH, but all are currently still active on the force.

Mr Ali was allegedly the victim of assault at the hands of two police officers in February last year. However the two officers involved were cleared of all wrongdoing in a trial last December, but are still subject to an IPCC investigation.

When asked if there is an issue with the number of officers being investigated, a Bedfordshire Police spokesman said: "We are already addressing any potential issues by referring the cases to the IPCC. We will await the outcome of those investigations."

Speaker Bercow gives guest talk at sixth form

POLITICS students at Luton Sixth Form College were called to order for a special lecture by the Speaker of the House of Commons, John Bercow, on Thursday.

Mr Speaker was accompanied by Dr Edge Watchorn, head of education at the Houses of Parliament, who also fielded questions from the young audience.

Subjects ranged from MPs' salaries and freedom of speech in light of the Charlie Hebdo attack, to parliamentary reform and the Iraq war.

He also elaborated on what his role entails.

In keeping with the tradition that the Speaker is strictly non-partisan and not affiliated to any party, he also skilfully handled questions about his own views on particular policies and issues.

The talk had been organised by Denise Pointer, the college's work related learning leader.

She said: "One of his passions is getting young people involved in politics and he goes to a lot of schools and colleges to give talks, so we were delighted to welcome him."

"His talk was absolutely brilliant. He was so articulate, intelligent and very engaging."

"I liked the way he was so honest while also considering the feelings of his audience. Even when he knew he would say things not everyone would agree with, he was happy to stand up for what he believes in."

"He was also very willing and friendly. Even at the end of the talk, when some students wanted to take selfies with him, he was quite happy to stay and do that."

Aside from his role in Parliament, Mr Bercow is currently Chancellor of the University of Bedfordshire, a post he was appointed to in June last year and will serve a five year term.

There is 'no mandate' for park's death knell

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS have said plans to build a cemetery on a park protected by a 30-year-old covenant have 'no mandate'.

The 'Save Orchard Close Park' (SOCP) group is opposing proposals by Houghton Regis Town Council to turn Orchard Close Park in Houghton Regis into a burial site.

The council's legal team wants to alter the covenant so it can submit a planning application for the cemetery to Central Bedfordshire Council.

Roy Houghton, an 87-year-old war veteran from the SOCP, said the authority had 'no mandate' for its proposed move.

A number of councillors at the authority, including Labour councillor Tony Swaine and Independent councillor Alan Winter, have publicly expressed their opposition to the plans.

Writing on the SOCP's Facebook page, Cllr Winter said 'covenants should be honoured'.

Mr Houghton said: "We've had a recreation ground going back to the 1950s and earlier than that."

"There was concrete company in the area then that wrote a covenant which says that the land adjacent Orchard Close should be kept as open ground for recreation purposes."

STAYING ALIVE: Save Orchard Close Park don't want a cemetery built on their park

"The council in their wisdom far back decided that Houghton Regis cemetery was running out of space but if you go to take a look you will see that there is space for 20 years."

"There was no mandate for it in the 2010 election but they have started doing tests on it and looking into it."

"The local village always valued that ground which was given to them."

"I believe that there's now a majority on the council against this cemetery."

In a statement posted online, Houghton Regis Council said: "There is estimated to be around five year's useable space remaining at the current cemetery."

"There is no scope for expansion to the existing site due to surrounding land uses."

"Cemetery provision within Houghton Regis is an important facility to residents and accordingly to the Town Council".

Luton graduates receive global acclaim for abortion movie

A FILM about an Asian woman forced by her family to undertake sex-selective abortion against her will, shot by university students, has received plaudits worldwide.

University of Bedfordshire graduates Tasos Giapoutzis and Michael Carter produced the 12-minute film which has been shown in across the world in India, Peru and Germany.

It received the Director's Choice Award – third prize – from the Black Maria Film Festival, as well as winning at the International Euro Film Festival in Malaga.

Tasos, who moved to study at the university from Greece, is now planning to host a film festival in Luton.

He said: "Organising an international short film festival in Luton is not just important for me personally, but for the whole community of Luton. It is a cultural event missing from the town and I am sure people will embrace it."

Case not closed on OAP bag 'thief'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN angry daughter has hit out at an airline after it branded her elderly mother a 'thief' after she mistakenly picked up the wrong bag.

Juliet Reid, 46, said her 85-year-old mother Rose Hamujuni was given wheelchair assistance when she flew into Heathrow Airport on January 15 from Uganda.

She had pointed to a suitcase she thought was hers but the family realised it was the wrong one once she arrived in Luton.

Juliet said she couldn't get hold of British Airways until January 17 and when she did, she claims the person she spoke to suggested her mother could be seen as having stolen the bag if she did not return it to the airport.

Juliet said: "When I called them they said that I have to take it to them. I said no and then somebody said that technically my mum has stolen the suitcase."

"I said that's your responsibility because she is 85 and has travelled eight hours."

Juliet says is refusing to return the suitcase out of principle. She added: "I assumed the person helping her would have checked the suitcase. I got so angry and put the phone down because insinuating that my mum is a thief is beyond my comprehension."

WAITING FOR TAKE OFF: Juliet still has the suitcase which her mother came home with from Heathrow

Since then Juliet says her son has managed to collect Rose's suitcase, but that the other case is still in her home. Heathrow Airport said its wheelchair service was provided by a third-party, called OmniServ, which would 'rely on the passenger to correctly identify their luggage'. A British Airways spokeswoman said customers who took the wrong luggage were asked to return 'as soon as possible'.

She added: "This means that we can ensure the swift return of another customer's bags, who understandably will also be impacted as a result of this genuine error."

Twitter shuts Aziz account

A NUMBER of extremist Twitter accounts have been shut down over the last two weeks, including that of Luton ISIS recruit Abu Rahin Aziz.

There was a crackdown overnight on Tuesday, January 13, which saw tweeters who posted messages encouraging extremism have their accounts shut down, followed by another spell last weekend, where Aziz was one of those who had his profile on the social media site closed. He has since created another account.

Aziz, 32, formerly of Hazelbury Crescent, has joined Islamic militants in Syria despite being on bail for attacking a football fan.

He said he travelled to Syria to help citizens affected by the ongoing war in the country.

A spokesman for Twitter said: "We do not comment on individual accounts, for privacy and security reasons."

"All reported accounts are reviewed against our rules, which prohibit direct, specific threats of violence against others."

GETTING BIGGER: The Duke was shown around Hayward Tyler's site on Thursday which is set to be doubled so the company can accommodate 'dedicated clean assembly areas and test pits'

Duke visit marks extension

AN engineering firm which has been in the town for more than 140 years is increasing its workforce as part of its £3.5 million expansion plan.

Hayward Tyler formally marked the start of the development of its main manufacturing facility in Kimpton Road with a visit from The Duke of Kent on Thursday.

The company, which is celebrating its 200th anniversary this year following its founding in 1815, is taking on 75 employees to bolster its workforce of 175.

It manufactures and services equipment for power stations and offshore oil and gas producers, and the expansion will double its plant to cater for businesses in civil nuclear and subsea markets.

Ewan Lloyd-Baker, Hayward Tyler's CEO, said the expansion was a 'real statement of intent'.

He added: "Part of the expansion plans we've got are about increasing our footprint here by about 40 per cent, potentially enabling us to double capacity."

"And part of that is to recruit an additional 75 employees as well and continuing with training and development. So it's a combination of securing existing jobs, training the existing workforce, recruiting new people and training them up as well."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Baggage reclaim at airport evacuated after faulty light triggered fire alarm

A SMALL fire caused parts of Luton Airport to be evacuated on Tuesday.

Travellers waiting in baggage reclaim were hurried out when the alarm went off at 1.45pm.

Passengers arriving on one flight were held on board while the light fitting was inspected.

Four fire crews were sent to the airport and some passengers in other parts of the premises were held back, but not evacuated.

No departing flights were affected and normal operations quickly resumed.

A spokesman for Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service said the fire was out by the time their crews arrived on the scene.

He said: "It was a small electrical fault in a light fitting. It was out when we arrived."

"We carried out a small check to make sure everything was safe then we left the scene."

Drug dens closed in series of police raids

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THREE men have been arrested after police carried out a number of drugs raids.

The raids, which took place in Luton on Monday, also saw Bedfordshire Police granted closure orders at three properties the following day.

At 4am, search warrants under Section 23 of the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 were conducted simultaneously at four addresses in the town.

Armed officers gained entry to the properties before they were searched.

Three men were arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to supply class A drugs at an address in Stanley Street.

All three have since been bailed until February 26. Cash was also seized.

Three other properties were also searched in Adelaide Street, Stockwood Crescent and Ashburnham Road.

No arrests were made and no drugs were found.

Sergeant Melissa Cunningham said: "These warrants were carried out after intelligence about suspected drug dealing at the addresses was received by the Luton Policing Community Team."

"We will always act on information regarding the use and supply of drugs and work hard to protect our communities from such criminal activity."

'Fantastic' L&D Hospital

WITH all the adverse publicity we are hearing about our hospitals around the UK, I must give a heartfelt thankyou to the Luton and Dunstable hospital for their immediate attention when my husband had a mini stroke last month at 3.30am on December 23.

I phoned for an ambulance when I realised what was happening to him.

The paramedics were with him within 10 minutes, and the ambulance arrived soon after. We were at the hospital within one hour of him having a mini stroke, and he was seen to immediately by a doctor.

He was able to leave the hospital two days later on Christmas day night, and has since made a full recovery.

I cannot speak highly enough of the L & D, the paramedics who attended him so quickly and all the dedicated doctors and nurses. They were all fantastic.

They deserve recognition.

A parking problem

DO you agree that pavements are for people? I do.

Cars that are parked irresponsibly on pavements can cause a potentially dangerous obstruction for pedestrians as it can force them onto the road and into the path of vehicles.

Newly released research by YouGov has

Get your hands dirty, Olly

SO according to you front page the week before last, our Police and Crime Commissioner, Olly Martins, wants the taxpayer to stump up for his shortcomings.

Didn't he know what the job entailed or what his budgets were before he put himself up for election for the post?

I used to be a contracts manager for a building company and was in charge of jobs worth considerable amounts of money. When the jobs started I had a budget to work to, if during that contract it looked as though I was running over that budget I would spend more time purchasing materials at a better price; I would make sure I had the best labour force available and most importantly the best foreman.

I would roll up my sleeves and get my hands dirty on site.

I would gain the workforce's respect and get the very best out of them and in return I would look after them.

It was never an option to go to the client and say 'I am sorry I have failed, but if you give me some more money I might be able to get the job done'.

Anyone can do a job if they have a bottomless pit of money, but it is doing the job with the funds available that makes you stand out.

Mr Martins says that the majority of people he has spoken to are in favour of paying more council tax.

Well, I don't know who these people are but where I live most people are outraged that he can't do the job that he is paid handsomely to do without putting his hand in our pockets.

(That's theft Olly, in case you didn't know that part of policing either).

shown that three quarters (74 per cent) of people are affected by vehicles parked on the pavement.

Some groups – including people living with sight loss, older people or those with buggies – are at greater risk.

Ninety-one per cent of respondents living with sight loss who responded to a Guide

Dogs survey said that parked cars on the pavement regularly obstruct them. You can see how dangerous pavement parking can be in real-life video footage.

One piece, filmed from a guide dog's view, shows how a guide dog and their owner had to go out into the road to get around a car at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oMQTt>

Courting disaster

I THINK it makes perfect sense to close Bedford Court and move all cases to Luton. We are in an age of austerity and saving money is a high priority.

In fact I think the proposal doesn't go far enough. If they closed Luton court and all other regional courts in England and just had one big court in London, that would save even more money.

And since we are part of this big successful Euro experiment, why not go even further and close all British and European courts and just have one court in Brussels.

Even more money saved.

Of course that might make things difficult for the average person needing to attend court.

But then it's usually the rich who win cases and the lawyers who make lots of money so perhaps the best thing to do is abandon the entire legal system and go back to arguing amongst ourselves.

That would save lots of money.

Right, now we've resolved the courts, let's see if we can apply the same principle to hospitals.

DETERMINED: Sarah is working with heart charity CRY to raise awareness about undiagnosed heart conditions. She said mandatory heart screenings in young people could help detect any problems

'Heartbroken' mum on a mission to save other parents from suffering similar loss

THE devastated mother of a teenager who died suddenly from an undiagnosed heart condition has said she is on a mission to ensure other families do not go through the same pain she has suffered.

Sarah Pyatt, of Longbrooke, Houghton Regis, lost her son Jake Gallagher in 2013 when he collapsed while playing his games console.

Since then, Sarah's discovered that Jake had a serious heart condition called brugada syndrome which can cause abnormally rapid heart rhythms.

She said it's been 'hard' for her and her three other children to deal with their tragic loss but she has been campaigning to raise awareness of the condition, raising more than £2,700 during a recent fundraising event and donated two defibrillators to All Saints Academy and St Vincent's in Dunstable.

She said: "It's been really hard and I'm heartbroken beyond belief but I'm trying to stop other families going through what I've gone through."

"I've been posting lots of things on Facebook trying to raise awareness so social media has really helped me. It's given me a bigger voice than I would have had."

Mrs Pyatt is now planning to hold another fundraising event later this year and donate more defibrillators to other schools in Dunstable.

HORSIN' AROUND: The county was a winter wonderland

Snow problem as winter takes hold

IT may only have been a light dusting but residents woke up to a snow covered Bedfordshire on Friday morning.

Parts of Luton, Bedford, and Central Bedfordshire had a fair amount of lying snow following weather warnings issued by the Met Office last week.

Forecasters said they expect the coming week to be cold and mainly dry with bright spells and frost.

Infected patient's claim bid goes on

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VICTIM of a botched blood transfusion is not going to back down in her quest to win compensation.

Fifty-six-year-old Sharon Moore, from Luton, is at the forefront of the Tainted Blood campaign to get compensation for victims of infected transfusions.

Miss Moore contracted Hepatitis C as a result of a contaminated transfusion in 1987, with blood testing only introduced in 1987.

Miss Moore said: "I was hospitalised for anaemia and I assumed after my transfusion I would get better."

"I just got worse and nobody knew why, until I was tested 10 years later.

"4,000 of us were infected and 2,000 died.

"I managed to beat it, but still have a variety of health issues as a result."

The group has also been pressuring Health Secretary

Jeremy Hunt MP to act. The campaign has recently gained the backing of several MPs, including Luton North representative Kelvin Hopkins.

Mr Hopkins said: "People who have been affected by medical mistakes, like Sharon, should be entitled to compensation, but there has been no progress.

"I too have written to Jeremy Hunt along with a number others, but have yet to receive a response."

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 3,000 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

ALEKSANDRA Warchol spends her days capturing life through the lens of her camera.

Whether it's a civic event or private affair, the 31-year-old photographer can be seen around Luton ready to for the next shot.

Alex first came to the UK from Poland 10 years ago for a working holiday which is yet to end.

She was 21 at the time and came with about 15 other friends, including her boyfriend Lukasz. Her aim had been to earn enough to fund her degree back in Poland.

However, after she began working at a warehouse in Dunstable two weeks after arriving, she realised she could earn in a week what she would have earned in a month in her job in Poland.

When some of her friends returned, she decided to stay. Since then, she has built a new life for herself, managed to get a mortgage on a house in Houghton Regis with Lukasz and says she is now able to call Luton her 'home town'.

Growing up, did she ever plan to leave Poland?

She grew up in Siechnice, south-western Poland, with her parents and older brother. They weren't rich but had a comfortable life-style, she says.

Alex's education was at Autorskie Licea Artystyczne (ALA), a private arts high school. Photography was a feature in her life but she only saw it as a hobby.

She says: "I didn't even realise that you can go out and take pictures."

"I had this impression that if I finished high school and wanted to work as a photographer, I would have to work in a lab and just take portraits, passport photos, and then maybe sit in a dark room and develop them."

Alex originally wanted to be an interior designer but I never had any problems," she says.

"Maybe I didn't realise it at the time but when I was living with my parents it was quite nice and comfy."

she couldn't afford to study at the local art university.

And she didn't want to 'worry' her parents anymore - her father Siechnice had three jobs to send her to ALA. It was against this backdrop that Alex decided to move to England. Her plan was made easier by the fact that her boyfriend Lukasz had visited the Netherlands a year earlier on holiday and had met a fellow Pole who rented a house in Luton.

He asked the couple to join him and a few others on a trip to the UK in 2004.

Talking about their first days in the UK, Alex said: "I was scared, I was so scared. Everything looked the same and for the first three days I think I was a bit homesick because I realised, 'oh, I'm gonna stay here for a bit so this is it', but after a few days I got used to it. I could speak English. . . well, I thought that I could speak English at the time but I couldn't. What they teach you in school is so different to real life."

Since then a lot has changed for Alex. She's moved from working in warehouses and offices to becoming a photographer, a move which came in tragic circumstances.

In 2007 her father tragically died in a car accident in Poland and her mother bought her a new camera with some of the money

AT HOME: Alex now considers Luton to be her home town and she regularly bumps into people she knows whenever she's out paid out by the insurance. Alex worked part-time while studying Photography and Video Arts at the University of Bedfordshire under her future employer, Ben Hodson, from the creative agency A Thin Place.

And how does she feel earning her living from something which started as a hobby?

"Amazing, amazing, amazing," she adds.

"I'm not a workaholic - I don't like to spend all day at work. I like to have a balance. I love to work but I love to spend time with my boyfriend and our dog."

And the highlight of her time in Luton? "I'm glad I went to university because this is what opened my eyes and I met a lot of people who actually cared about Luton.

"Before that I never really liked Luton - it's not the most beautiful place in the world.

"I've travelled around the UK quite a lot and there are nicer places but it's nice to see that the town is changing. There are people who actually care about it.

"I met lots of people from Luton or outside Luton when I started hanging around in Luton more often and going to parks, clubs and different places.

"Spending more time with people who care about Luton I think has made a huge difference to me."

Student nurses driving healthcare forward

Improve the lives of thousands by joining an Adult Nursing course at the University of Bedfordshire

"The University is seeking its next set of compassionate, caring, critical thinkers who have the potential to lead the way and become part of the 2015/16 intake of student nurses driving healthcare forward."

Almost 100% of Adult Nursing students at the University of Bedfordshire go into employment after graduating from the course – which is completely free and benefits from a generous NHS Student Bursary scheme. This can be used to help with living costs and other expenses, and doesn't have to be paid back.

This year the University is offering more people the chance to enrol with places available this March and September.

Once you join, you will be part of a cohort benefiting from a contemporary approach to nursing setting you up with the necessary knowledge, attitudes, skills and behaviours to be an adult nurse and meet the demands of the role.

This course enables you to learn in a variety of ways – academic, simulated and especially out in the field.

The University offers you the chance to put your studies into practice as you head out on healthcare placements across Luton, Bedford, Milton Keynes and Aylesbury – to learn from those already excelling in their field.

"The best part of the course is being able to experience such a variety of specialities and gain such a vast amount of knowledge," says Catherine Jelly, a third-year Adult Nursing student.

"There is no typical day or week, every day is different and each holds its own challenges.

Most weeks, depending on the period into the course, consist of attending clinical placement or going to university – whilst also trying to complete your assignments in the time free and any extra time left is either spent reading around the course subject or relaxing with friends.

"The course is very demanding both mentally and physically, so I would say it is important to make sure that this course is for you before applying.

"My biggest advice to anyone though is not to be discouraged by the academic side of the work, support is available to those that need it and want it. I have received a large amount of support from lecturers and the support team for my dyslexia.

"Now I'm looking at finishing my third year, taking up my first job on an acute medical ward, and further increasing my knowledge of various specialities of nursing."

Many Bedfordshire students go on to excel at the highest level. Take Sarah Weight for example. While at Bedfordshire Sarah was one of just a few students to help form part of the Keogh Mortality Review panel which assessed 14 hospital trusts highlighted by the NHS to have high death rates.

Sarah, who was also selected for an elite leadership academy, is today working on the trauma ward at the internationally renowned Royal London Hospital.

She states: "Bedfordshire's opportunities and support was fantastic for all of us. It's incredible to look just how far I've come since I first started, I never imagined it."

In addition to Adult Nursing, the University of Bedfordshire provides a selection of nursing related courses designed to meet your exact interests.

WHY BEDFORDSHIRE?

- Student satisfaction at an all-time high*
- Ranked first for improving the student experience*
- A leading university for improving career prospects*
- Scholarships and bursaries are available

*National Student Survey 2014

Mental Health Nursing is one of the most popular studies, with a course that prepares you for the multi-faceted role requiring work with those affected by mental health issues and their families.

A practice-led course, you will be able to use classroom, group, self-directed and simulation-based learning to provide the knowledge and understanding required to care for people of all ages.

Furthermore, you will be prepared for the role of advocate – ready to apply the strategies by which the voices of your patients and their families are heard and acted on. You will also learn how to develop safe and effective care that meets the holistic needs of people with a mental health problem.

Current student Giles Loch said: "I could never be an office person stuck behind desk all day, so after research and some experience in a care home, dealing with patients with dementia, I realised Mental Health Nursing was for me.

"Now on the course, the best part is the practical side – working out there doing what I love the most, helping people. The most rewarding thing is when you see your patients getting better and having the insight into their illness...but most of all when they say thank you."

Jailed for attack on pal's grandpa

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A MAN has been jailed for 19 and a half years for his part in a botched burglary.

Warren Reid, 22, of Seaton Road, Luton, was jailed on Friday, January 23 for the attack on his friend Jack Sibley's grandfather in May last year.

Reid and Sibley, who received 19 years for his part in the crime, broke into Barry Sibley's home in the dead of night determined to get their hands on the £4,000 the elderly man kept in a safe in an upstairs wardrobe.

The two had been round the house to visit two days earlier and located the safe.

They planned a spending spree which included a visit to a strip club.

But after creeping into the former policeman's home, the noise they made woke the 82-year-old, who lived alone.

The old man armed himself with a souvenir Gurkha's knife that was by his bedside and came out of his bedroom.

On the landing he was grabbed by his grandson, who was wearing a balaclava, and Reid and then hurled head first down the staircase.

'FEROCIOUS': Warren Reid, 22

The pair snatched the knife from him and stabbed him with such ferocity that the middle finger on the old man's left hand was chopped off and his ring finger was almost severed.

In addition he was stabbed in the chest and suffered a fractured skull, and 'chopped' about the top of his head with the ornamental Kukri knife.

The pair fled the house in Cheshunt, Hertfordshire, leaving the pensioner at the foot of the staircase.

Luckily his cries for help were heard by a neighbour and police broke into the property to find the grandfather lying in a pool of blood.

Despite the life threatening injuries he had sustained, the old man survived.

After jailing the grandson for 19 years, Judge Stephen Gullick handed a sentence of 19 years and nine months to Reid.

Judge Gullick told the pair it had been a 'ferocious and sickening attack' on the grandfather.

Before he was sentenced, the court was told Sibley had written a letter from prison saying he now wanted to 'make it up' to his granddad and win back his trust for a crime which has torn his family apart.

In December, the pair were convicted of conspiring to rob Barry Sibley in the early hours of May 13 last year.

They were acquitted of a charge of attempting to murder the man, but were instead found guilty of causing him grievous bodily harm with intent.

The eagle has landed! Norman found in Barton

A BIRD of prey which had been missing for two weeks has been found safe and sound.

Norman, a golden eagle, took flight on January 9 which led to a full-scale search and numerous sightings from across the county and beyond.

The bird was on loan to falconer Allen Smith, when he went missing.

The 65-year-old recaptured the giant bird on Monday.

Mr Smith said: "I threw a rabbit lure out for him and it took a few times for him to go for it, but when he did I grabbed the straps on his legs and managed to get him into my car and get his hood on."

"I'd like to thank everyone who helped me find him over the last few weeks."

REUNITED: Following a two week long search Allen Smith recovered the eagle

Firm hit with £50k fine for driver injury

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COURIER firm has been fined £50,000 after one of its workers was run over by his own lorry.

DHL, who also paid costs of £15,698, pleaded guilty to safety failings after a HGV driver was run over by his vehicle at a depot in Dunstable on September 4, 2012.

The unnamed 42-year-old, from Leeds, was connecting a trailer to his cab at DHL's depot at the start of his shift when the vehicle moved.

He was run over after he tripped and fell while attempting to catch up with the cab to stop it hitting and injuring a pedestrian or nearby property.

The worker suffered life-changing injuries including five fractures to his pelvis and he has been unable to work since.

He was unable to walk for six months, can no longer drive as he cannot sit for any length of time, and has been diagnosed with post-traumatic stress disorder.

The Health and Safety Executive (HSE), which investigated the incident, found that the firm had failed to assess the risks associated with parking on uneven or sloping ground and, as a result, had not identified and implemented practicable controls or safeguards such as the use of wheel chocks and audible handbrake alarm.

HSE Inspector Emma Page said it had been a 'horrific and entirely preventable injury'.

VALENTINE'S DAY

FEBRUARY 14TH

Saint Valentine's Day, also known as Valentine's Day or the Feast of Saint Valentine is a holiday observed on February 14th each year. It is celebrated in many countries around the world, although it is not seen a holiday in most of them.

In the Middle Ages the day was associated with romantic love and then in the 18th century it evolved where lovers expressed their affection for each other by presenting flowers and confectionary and sending greeting cards.

In Europe Saint Valentine Keys are given to lovers as a symbol to unlock the givers heart, other Valentine symbols include the heart shaped outline, doves and the winged cupid.

Mass produced greeting cards have replaced the original handwritten cards so why not add that special verse or image for the personal touch or go all out and make one from scratch.

THE recent horrific and barbaric terrorist attacks in Paris, condemned by many communities of religion and of no religion, has fuelled much debate on the "freedom of speech" across the globe.

It makes me sad and heavy-hearted to hear about the loss of lives caused by this act of criminality; my thoughts go out to the victims' families and loved ones.

As a Muslim, and like many others in Luton, I believe in freedom of speech.

I respect the right for people to express themselves freely.

However, freedom should be balanced with responsibility and respect.

It should not be translated into a duty to offend or hate.

There are laws to protect the dignity and properties of people and as citizens of Luton we need to foster a culture of mutual respect and unity, not one of division and disdain.

Given the publication of the cartoon of Prophet Muhammed (may peace be upon him) most Muslims will inevitably feel hurt, offended

IN this week's column, Councillor Tafheen Sharif reflects upon the events of the past few weeks and calls for unity and solidarity and upset. Prophet Muhammed (may peace be upon him) is dearer to Muslims than parents, children and our own selves. Reactions to the publications, although distressing, must reflect the teachings of the gentle character of the Prophet enduring patience and tolerance.

Peaceful channels should be utilised such as healthy debate and discussion.

As Lutonians we must not allow hate to creep into our hearts due to atrocities in Paris and across the world.

The attacks in Paris were not about free speech, they were an attempt to turn us against each other.

Another horrific example in history is The Holocaust where Jews were marginalised, hated and executed because of their faith.

Last week we saw Luton

Borough Council, and many organisations across the country, hold a memorial day to remember those who suffered in The Holocaust and to remember the victims and survivors of the unjust acts.

People of all backgrounds must come together and show unity and solidarity.

Let us not play into the terrorists' bloodstained hands by their attempts of dividing and demonising us.

Let us reject all forms of hate. Terrorists cannot divide us.

Any suspected incidents of Islamophobia or anti-Semitism, or any form of hate crime, should be reported to the police on 101, along with any concerns around individuals or groups suspected of wanting to cause harm in our communities. Always dial 999 in cases of emergencies.

MEET... FULL HOUSE

I'M not a 'classist gimp'. But neither do I wholeheartedly agree with James Blunt's criticism of what the shadow minister for the arts said last week.

Labour MP Chris Bryant bemoaned the fact that a career in the arts is fast becoming possible only for those from affluent and privileged backgrounds.

Singer James Blunt poo-pooed that suggestion as 'populist, envy-based vote-hunting' from a 'prejudiced wazzock'.

In other words, you don't have to be posh to be in showbiz.

Of course you don't but it helps. Or if not posh, then born into a family that can help you pay your way through art, drama or music school, should you be lucky and talented enough to get accepted, as well as in the times you might spend out of work, trying to scratch a living together in whatever temp job you can get.

But even more divisive is the fact that arts provision in state schools is always the first casualty of government cutbacks.

Who cares if your kid can't borrow a violin from the county music bank any more or there's no time in the curriculum for drama classes. They've got SATs to sit and teachers have got forms to fill in, anything else is just icing on the cake and they can get all that at home. Can't they?

Well, no. Not in every case. Which is why what Full House Theatre does is even more important now than when they first started up, 14 years ago.

Full House is a local, home-grown company. Creative directors Harriet Hardie and Ben Miles were fortunate enough to be able to go to a good drama school in London, which is where they met. Then they came back to Bedfordshire and set up a theatre company with a difference.

The difference is that they didn't have a theatre, they didn't have much money and they didn't see their personal future careers in terms of getting a part in a long-running soap or starring in a West End show. They wanted to take live theatre out to people who rarely get to see it or even know what it could be like.

They have taken shows into schools, parks and town centres and got people involved in them. They have given a voice to people who would never normally have one. They have refreshed the parts that other theatre companies couldn't or wouldn't reach.

Their projects with groups such as Bedford and District Cerebral Palsy Society, adults with special needs and schoolchildren right across the county have earned them respect and funding from the Arts Council, the National Lottery and Children in Need as well as from local charities such as the Harpur Trust. And with it, their work has also brought a lot of fun.

And fun is what Luton's Full House Feb Fest is all about. Four days of creative activities, shows, storytelling and workshops are planned later this month in several locations across the town.

Tickets to the shows are cheap and in some cases totally free but the quality of the events, which includes the work of visiting companies, is top notch.

And it goes without saying that they're not just for posh people.

Full House Feb Fest is for everybody.

LIVE MUSIC

THE SITUATORS

Wardown Park Museum
Sunday, February 8

THREE piece cover group The Situators will live up Wardown Park museum with a variety of covers spanning different eras and genres next weekend.

Made up of guitarist Chris Wilkinson, bassist Andrew King and drummer and singer Richard Noone, the group have been invited back after playing the venue in the summer.

Mr Noone said: "We play a big range, anything from what's in the charts now to songs from the 60s which have stood the test of time."

Watch out for their versions of All About That Bass and Gangnam Style, performed in a way you've never heard before.

Their style is summed up as tight rhythms accompanied by harmonised vocals.

It's a chance to see a different band in a different venue, inside the setting of Wardown Park Museum as one of their Music in the Museum shows.

Mr Noone added: "With the darkest, coldest days of winter, we hope our music can lighten the town up a bit."

All three are from the surrounding areas, with Chris and Richard from Luton, and Andrew from Leighton Buzzard. Tickets are £5 from lutonculture.com or 01582 878100.

MUSIC

MARIUSZ PTAS

The Bear Club, Luton
Saturday, February 7, 7.30pm

LUTON's newest jazz venue is slowly becoming a favourite haunt for fans of the genre and next weekend it promises to deliver again.

Luton-based Polish session guitarist Mariusz Ptas will be joined by other local musicians for a night of jazz-funk fusion.

Ptas, who has been playing guitar for around 17 years, credits his start in music to his father and uncle, whose musical exploits encouraged him to start his own.

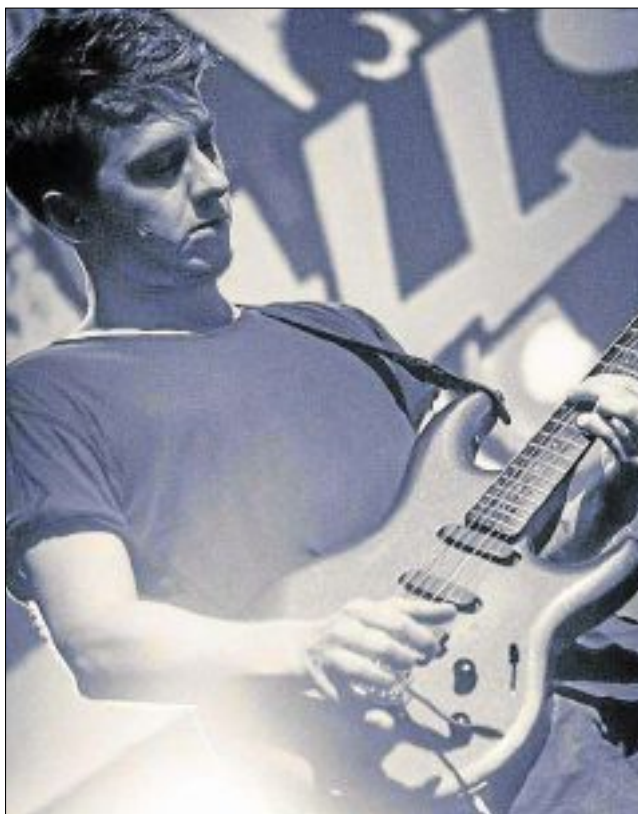

The 30-year-old said: "I just picked up my guitar from my uncle and then I began to teach myself. I've just wanted to do it since I was in school."

Saturday's gig will see him play with some musicians he met when he came to the UK 10 years ago.

Chris Morris, who has played for former Luton X Factor contestant Beverley Trotman, will be on drums, Rob Mach on tenor sax, Craig Stallwood on piano and Konrad Gordon on bass.

What can punters expect on Saturday?

Mariusz said: "I'm writing my own material and hopefully at the end of the year we can record some stuff, so it will be some early stuff for that. It's going to be 80s fusion and funky stuff and a lot of improvisation, so it's not just only going to be structured."

All aboard the Zion Train. . .

NOW in their 27th year, British dub legends Zion Train will play The Hat Factory later this month.

The full band set will see their trademark of dynamic dub mixing coupled with live instruments, which has been exciting crowds across the world for decades.

Originally formed as a soundsystem in 1988, the band are performing two UK shows in the run up to the release of their 12th studio album 'Land of the Blind' on March 20, one of which is in Luton on Saturday, February 28.

Advance tickets are £12.50, or £15 on the door.

They can be bought by visiting lutonculture.com or by calling the box office on 01582 87810.

Doors open at 8pm.

Connells

PRESS RELEASE

JANUARY 2015

Be seen to be sold, says Connells

With 95% of home movers starting their property search online (YouGov, January 2014), Connells in Luton is advising sellers to choose an estate agency that will maximise the exposure of their property online.

Research shows that unless properties are featured on the two most popular property search websites - identified as Rightmove and Zoopla* - sellers could miss out on up to a third of buyers looking online. 31% of buyers searching for property online didn't visit Rightmove and another 36% didn't visit Zoopla (Source: UKOM Media Tel October 2013) so it pays to go with an agency that places properties on both sites.

"Here at Connells we understand the importance of effectively marketing your property online," says Lee Clark, Branch Manager for Connells in Luton. "It is essential that sellers instruct an agent that provides the best exposure for their property and that it reaches the biggest possible audience. This includes ensuring that their property is being promoted on not just one of the two biggest property websites but on both which of course Connells does."

Customers can rest assured that with Connells their property will be featured on the two most popular and visited property portals - Rightmove and Zoopla (including PrimeLocation)* - as well as on the Connells network of websites.

Lee continues: "It's clear to see that those homes that get less exposure therefore get less viewings and interest. We are committed to providing the best service to our customers and this includes putting their home in front of as many potential buyers as possible."

If you have a property to sell and would like to arrange a free market appraisal on your home, contact the local Connells branch on 01582 450999 or email: Luton@connells.co.uk

GREAT AREA FOR BUY TO LET INVESTORS IN 2015

2014 had a huge surge in buy to let investors with now over one million landlords with buy to let mortgages making repayments totalling £21.9 billion. This shows strong confidence in the Lettings sector. The UK has an estimated nine million renters so a supply of well-maintained homes will always be needed. "A commuter Town such as Luton, with its excellent transport links, will obviously be of interest to investors", says Justin Walters, Lettings Manager of Connells Luton branch. "Obtaining professional advice at the earliest opportunity is important in any major decision making and we shall be pleased to discuss your plans and requirements with you. At Connells we realise it is crucial in ensuring that properties are marketed effectively and we stay at the top of our game with continuous legislation and development training". To find out more about Connells Lettings Service and current local market conditions, or to book a free and without obligation rental valuation of your property, please call 01582 481369. Alternatively, you may prefer to visit the branch at George Street, Luton.

DOUBLING UP: Luke Wilkinson's header hits the back of the net

United defeated but

LEAGUE TWO
LUTON TOWN 3
CAMBRIDGE UNITED 2

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

WHO needs a trip to Manchester United any way? There was more than enough drama at Kenilworth Road with a five-goal thriller that saw Luton hold off a second half Cambridge revival.

Forget the FA Cup. For Town, League Two is where it's at, but League One would be better. Sure, a day-trip to Old Trafford would have been nice but the Hatters are thinking longer term.

Their fans have a profanity-laden toe-tapper of a song to indicate just what they think of the FA Cup and where they think the immediate destiny of their club lies and it's up, up, up.

Anyway, relatively speaking, Luton have been there, done that and got the t-shirt in the world's oldest knockout competition, as a non-league David slaying the relative Goliath of then Premier League Norwich City.

So, instead of preparing for a glamour mid-week tie in Manchester, they gained a measure of revenge for the third round cup exit that, earlier this year, put paid to that opportunity.

In doing so they claimed a league double over Cambridge and moved within three points of the top three – but only just, as they almost threw away a 3-0 half time lead.

Luke Wilkinson, who scored Town's second, said: "We believe 100 per cent that we can go up automatically this year. We're pushing hard to go up.

"There's massive belief. We always feel we should have been up there at the top of the league.

"[After] a couple of draws in the last couple of fixtures, we're still in amongst it."

Their bid for League One was reignited with a rare 25-minute splurge in the first half. It was quite an antidote to their goal troubles and the first time they'd scored more than once since December 20. What's that old adage about waiting for London buses?

The visitors had enjoyed the better chances until Andy Drury guided in his second of the season on 19 minutes. Wilkinson doubled the lead with a towering header in front of the Oak Road stand – a carbon copy of two of his previous four Luton goals. He would, however, leave the pitch before the interval – as a precaution after nagging his hamstring – hoping his colleagues could maintain the record of always winning when he'd scored.

They took a giant leap towards that end when Jonathan Smith volleyed home, in off the turf, in added time. It should have been game over.

At half time new signing, 27-year-old winger Ryan Hall, was paraded on the Kenilworth

Luton and Stockwood Park enjoy away wins

RUGBY UNION

BY TIM BARTLETT
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON backed up last weekend's away win at Woodford with another win on the road – this time a 23-17 success at Barking, a side they beat 31-24 when they met in the reverse London One North fixture at Newlands back in October.

Dunstablians' game at Lutterworth was postponed, denying the Dees the opportunity to build on their 15-0 home win last time out.

The Dees host Market Harborough next Saturday – a side sitting two places, and ten points, above them in Midlands Two East South, and with eight league games of the season left – this will be one they will fancy taking maximum points from.

In Midlands Three East South, Stockwood Park made it four wins on the bounce, and still remain unbeaten in 2015, courtesy of an 18-8 away win against fourth-placed Oundle. Stockwood continue to close the gap on the teams above them, and now lie nine points off a promotion place with seven games of the season left.

"Both sides played extremely well," said Stockwood Park President John Humphries. "It was a very competitive and highly skilled game – I'd go as far as to say that's the most complete performance by us this season, an excellent match between two sides intent on playing the game as it should be played."

Stockwood lead 15-3 at the turnaround through a Steve Pollock try, who converted and added a penalty, with Alex Lovell crossing the whitewash for a second. Oundle scored a try of their own after the restart, though Pollock slotted a penalty late on to make the game safe.

"There were numerous candidates for man of the match, especially in the pack, who were outstanding in both commitment and control," said Humphries. "They showed excellent discipline and implemented what we do in training, to the letter."

only after a nervy finish

Road pitch, hours after penning an 18-month deal after being released by Rotherham.

In the changing room, at the same time, his new teammates must have had the cigars out.

No doubt Cambridge were reminded by their boss and Hatters hate figure, Richard Money, that they hadn't played badly, and United made a game of it. Perhaps they were warned not to rock up in Manchester with their tails between their legs.

Wilkinson added: "We definitely want more performances like the first half than the second half, but I think that's football."

"You can be 3-0 up but then the other team are going to have a right go at you. Fair play to Cambridge, they had a right go in the second half but we managed to hold on."

Former Luton loanee Cameron McGeehan helped spark the revival. Having received some playful ribbing from the fans that adored him last term, the Norwich youngster, on a temporary spell with the U's, picked out substitute Johnny Hunt, who drilled into the top corner for a stunning debut goal.

Robbie Simpson – the other half time introduction – almost reduced the deficit further with an audacious flick at a high ball from an acute angle.

But, with four minutes to go, the United man pulled former Town full back Greg Taylor's ball out of the sky and drilled low past Mark Tyler to set up a nail-biter.

Luton withstood the Cambridge barrage, but only just, proving that if Town are to win promotion this term, they sure as hell won't be doing it the easy way.

Hatters still waiting for Johnson to make his decision

BY CIARAN THOMAS

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town won't rush into making a decision on signing Andrew Johnson, as the former England striker continues to decide whether he wants to extend his playing career by agreeing a deal with the Hatters.

Town manager John Still has spoken to Johnson's agent this week but said the club are waiting for the player to get back to them once he has decided on what direction to take his future.

The 33-year-old was released by Crystal Palace earlier this year, meaning his signing would not have to be completed by Monday's transfer deadline but Still thinks a decision is close.

However, the situation doesn't seem to have progressed in a week and with news of Luton's interest first breaking on January 7, the length of time which has elapsed may point to a deal being unlikely.

"We actually met for the first time the agent of Andrew Johnson," said Still.

"It was the same discussion that we've had all the time, we're really waiting for Andrew to come to us because he's the one that has to decide if he wants to play.

"It's not just about wanting to play, it's wanting to play with an energy, a drive and an enthusiasm to help this club get promoted.

"That's whoever comes in, not just him.

"At the moment he wasn't sure that playing was what he wanted to do and that's how we left it.

"As far as I'm concerned when he is ready he'll say yes I do or no I don't.

"I do think he would like an involvement with a football club but before we get to what sort of involvement we need to find out if playing is part of that. We might have an answer around next week."

Hatters hope to sign one more after Hall capture

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lbnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town manager John Still will spend transfer deadline day trying to sign another player after landing winger Ryan Hall, Hakan Hayrettin has revealed.

The 27-year-old new boy was paraded in front of the Kenilworth Road crowd at half time as the Hatters beat Cambridge United 3-2 in League Two yesterday.

Hall penned an 18-month deal hours before the game after being released by Rotherham United, but it won't be the last piece of business that the club do, if Still can help it.

"That's one crossed off and he's working hard to get another one," said first team coach Hayrettin ahead of transfer deadline day tomorrow.

"When you've got someone like our manager here, who's experienced, has been doing this job for a long, long time, and hardly [been] out of work, I think timing is the key.

"It was the right time for us to bring a player in. He gives his players as much praise as possible and he waits for his injuries to come back, but he felt it was the right time.

"It probably was the right time for the football club and we're more than happy to have him here."

Hall has also represented the likes of Leeds United, Southend United, MK Dons and Notts County, but Still will know him from a loan spell at Dagenham & Redbridge in 2008.

Hayrettin said: "He's an exciting player. He's played at a higher level and he's someone that the manager knows very, very well and he's been tracking [him]."

"He's got very good feet, he's quick with it and he runs at people and he'll definitely add to what we've got.

"Let's hope he has an enjoyable stay here and hopefully he can be a part of what the manager's trying to do here."

Jonathan Smith, who scored Luton's decisive third goal against Cambridge, said: "I've played against Ryan in the past so I know what a good player he is and I'm sure he'll add a lot of quality to this team.

"He'll want to be playing in front of that support."

Luke Wilkinson, who headed Town into a 2-0 lead, said of Hall: "The gaffer is trying to bring in players to help us until the end of the season and for the future.

"Hopefully he'll come in and do well. We'll make him feel welcome and hopefully he can be a big hit here."

"I know he was at Southend and he's done really well to get a move higher up the leagues, so fair play to him."

"Obviously he wants to come and play games for Luton, a big club doing well, so hopefully he can help us over the finish line."
